

Lab Exam

The layout of the website is given below:

Site Menus:

[Each page information is given below]

1. HOME PAGE:

It will contain a simple welcome message to the visitors.

2. ABOUT ME:

It has three submenu items, which will appear when user mouse over on this menu item [as shown in above picture]. If user clicks on this menu item he will be redirected to personal info page.

3. PERSONAL INFO:

In this page, your personal information will be shown, like first name, last name, parent's name, address etc.

4. EDUCATIONA INFO:

In this page your education information will be listed.

5. WORK INFO:

In this page your work information will be listed.

6. CONTACT ME:

This page will contain a form with following fields,

- a) Name
- b) Email
- c) Subject
- d) Message
- e) A button to submit the form

[all the fields are required, so you have check that using javascript]

To store the submitted information of this form, create a database table with above fields and store the submitted information in that table.

7. ADMIN:

Clicking on this will load a login form, using which the admin of the site will login. You can check the login information by hard coding username (say 'admin') and password (say '123456') or use a database table to store the login information.

8. CONTACT ME LIST:

This page will show a table filled by the contact me page's submitted data retrieved from the database table. Also there should be a logout link from the admin account.

REQUIREMENTS:

1. Design a layout for your website from your experience of using other sites.
2. Your site should have common contents that are usually present in all the websites.
3. Use div based layout design with reusable page layout design.
4. Use separate js and css file to write the js and CSS.
5. Use your own data to fill up the page content.